Despite taking highest care and utmost effort, there might be some inadvertent errors and deviations. Any constructive and logical advice will be highly appreciated to the scope of improvement of the text. ## OUR ENVIRONMENT

1 Diversity in Natural and Social Environment

a) Let us observe the picture, identify the natural and social elements and make a list in the table below :

Elements of Natural Environment	Elements of Social Environment
The Sun	Houses

There is diversity in the elements of natural environment. Some places have high and low hills, some have mountains and some have seas and oceans. Rivers, canals, haor-baor, etc. have made the environment diverse.

The diverse living world consists of insects, huge animals like elephants and different kinds of trees. Some areas have lot of rain, and some areas are dry desert. Some areas have warm weather, some have cold. It is warm in summer and cold in winter in Bangladesh. It rains a lot in the rainy season in this country. Sometimes heavy rain causes flood. And sometimes lack of rain causes draught. This is how our diverse natural environment has developed.

There is also diversity in different elements of social environment. People of different religions of the country celebrate different religious festivals like Eid, Puja, Buddha Purnima, Christmas etc. Different kinds of educational institutions like school, madrasa, college are developed for our needs. There are people from different occupations like farmers, fishermen, business persons, rickshaw-pullers, teachers, doctors in our society. We use different kinds of transport like rickshaw, car, train, launch, aeroplane etc. for travelling. People of different areas have different types of houses, languages and food habits. There are differences in the houses, roads, market places, lifestyles etc. in villages and towns. Most of the offices and factories in this country are situated in towns. On the other hand, agricultural farms are situated in the villages. In this way, there is diversity in natural and social environment in different areas

b) Let us read the facts and write the diversity in natural and social environment in the table below :

Bangladesh is the land of six seasons. Different kinds of crops, fruits and vegetables are found in different seasons. For example, mangoes, jackfruits in the summer, water apples, hog plums in the rainy season and orange, jujube, etc. in winter are commonly available. Banana and papaya are available throughout the year. Different trees and living beings are found in different areas because of environmental diversity. Trees in the hills and forests give us wood and oxygen. We grow different crops on vast plane land. We get fish from the rivers, haor-baor and canals. Moreover, these water-bodies help us travel, transport goods and irrigate land. All these diverse elements of the environment together play an important role to maintain environmental harmony.

People of different race, religion and caste live in different areas together. As a result, friendly and harmonious relation develops among them. Different transportation systems like roads, waterways, railways, etc. develop because of natural diversity. Like natural environment, diversity in social environment is also important in our life.

3 Importance of Protecting the Environment

a) Let us observe the pictures above and write what is happening in the table beside :

The importance of diverse environment in human life is limitless. We are to play an active role to protect the environment. That is why we will always try to keep the area around our house, schoolyard, play field and roads clean. We will dump plastic, polythene bag and trash in certain place.

Trees give us oxygen and take back carbon dioxide and also keep the environment beautiful. We can protect natural and social environment by planting trees around our houses, at schoolyards and beside the roads. That is why trees and hills cannot be cut down at will. Habitat of creatures living in water is destroyed, environment is polluted and biodiversity is threatened if rivers, canals and water-bodies are filled up by dumping trash. It is our duty to protect the diversity of environment.

b) Let us write down below the reasons that damage environmental diversity :

c) Let us write down what we should do to protect the environment in the table below :

Some have visual difficulty, some have hearing problems. Some understand the lessons easily, while others take more time.

We will help each other. We will take part in different religious festivals and programmes. We will honour all occupations. Why did those happen?

Indian and Pakistan emerged as two independent countries in 1947. Pakistan had two parts. One was East Pakistan and the other was West Pakistan. Majority of the population of Pakistan was Bangalee. Their mother tongue is Bangla. Bangalees lived in East Pakistan. But the rulers of Pakistan decided to make Urdu of West Pakistan as the state language. The people of East Pakistan demanded Bangla as the state language in 1948. At that time Bangabandhu Sheikh Mujibur Rahman and many others were arrested. After a few days, Pakistan's Governor-General Muhammad Ali Jinnah visited Dhaka. He announced Urdu as Pakistan's only state language at Curzon Hall of Dhaka University. The students protested against it outright. Processions marched the streets of Dhaka on 21 February 1952. There was only one demand – Bangla as the state language. Police opened fire on the processions. Salam, Barkat, Rafiq, Jabbar and many others became martyrs. We honour them as Language Martyrs because they sacrificed their lives for the language. A Shaheed Minar was built in their memories where they shed their blood. Pakistani police and army broke that down later. After that, both Bangla and Urdu became the state languages of Pakistan in 1956. The Central Shaheed Minar was built in 1963.

b) Let us read the facts and arrange what happened in order :

Language Martyr Abdus Salam was born on 27 November 1925 at Lakshmanpur village (now Salam Nagar) in Feni district. His father was Munshi Abdul Fajel and mother Doulater Nesa. Language Martyr Abul Barkat was born on 13 June 1927 at Babla village of Murshidabad in India. His father was Shamsuzzoha and mother Hasina Bibi. Language Martyr Rafiq Uddin Ahmed was born on 30 October 1926 at Paril village in Manikganj district. His father was Abdul Latif and mother Rafija Khatun. Language Martyr Abdul Jabbar was born on 10 October 1919 at Panchua village in Mymensingh district. His father was Hasen Ali and mother Safatun Nesa.

a) Let us observe the pictures above and describe them in the table below :

What are the pictures about?
When do the events take place?
Where are they laying wreaths?
Why are they laying wreaths?

We have learned in the previous session that Salam, Barkat, Rafiq, Jabbar and many others sacrificed their lives for state language on 21 February 1952. Abdul Gaffar Chowdhury wrote Ekushey song 'Amar bhai er rokte rangano Ekushey February' in this regard. The Central Shaheed Minar was built in Dhaka in memory of the Language Martyrs. The educational institutions of the country have shaheed minar of different sizes.

The language martyrs' day was recognised as the International Mother Language Day in 1999 because of Bangladesh's initiatives. February 21 is observed as International Mother Language Day worldwide. It is a matter of pride for us. We observe 'Martyrs' Day and International Mother Language Day' nationally. The Martyrs' Day and International Mother Language Day has glorified all the mother tongues of the world. It has taught us to practice and protect our mother tongue. It has created opportunities to study in mother tongue. This day makes people respect all the languages of the world.

We observe this day with due state honour. We march in bare feet in the morning on Martyrs' Day and International Mother Language Day. In the morning march we sing 'Amar bhai er rokte rangano Ekushey February'. We pay homage to the language martyrs by placing flowers at shaheed minar. On this day, educational institutions arrange drawing, essay writing etc. competitions and cultural programs. The national flag is kept half-mast on this day. We will remember the sacrifice of language martyrs forever.

Since the birth of Pakistan, the Pakistani rulers started exploiting the Bangalees. In protest, the people of East Pakistan started movement led by Bangabandhu Sheikh Mujibur Rahman. Bangabandhu gave a speech at a huge gathering at Race Course Field on 7 March 1971. He declared in that historic speech, 'The struggle this time is the struggle for emancipation, the struggle this time is the struggle for independence'. The Pakistani army brutally killed students, teachers, policemen, EPR members and mass people on the night of 25 March. It is recognised as the Black Night in the history.

Bangabandhu declared independence of Bangladesh in the early hours of 26 March. He was arrested soon after that. Then began our independence struggle against the West Pakistanis. Our independence struggle is also famous as the Liberation War. The 26th of March is our Independence Day. This day is very important for us because Liberation War started on this day.

Three million people were martyred in the Liberation War. The National Memorial was built in Savar in memory of the martyrs. We observe the Independence Day with due respect. On this day, we lay flowers at the National Memorial to pay respect. Drawing cultural programmes, discussion etc. are arranged at our school. We all take part in those programmes.

We have earned our independence after a lot of sacrifice. The sacrifice of the people of Bangladesh teaches us to love the country.

Struggle for independence started after independence was declared on 26 March 1971. The first interim government of independent Bangladesh was formed on 10 April 1971. This government is known as Mujibnagar Government. Bangabandhu Sheikh Mujibur Rahman was its president. 'Muktibahini' or freedom fighters' force was formed to wage war. People from all classes and occupations joined the war.

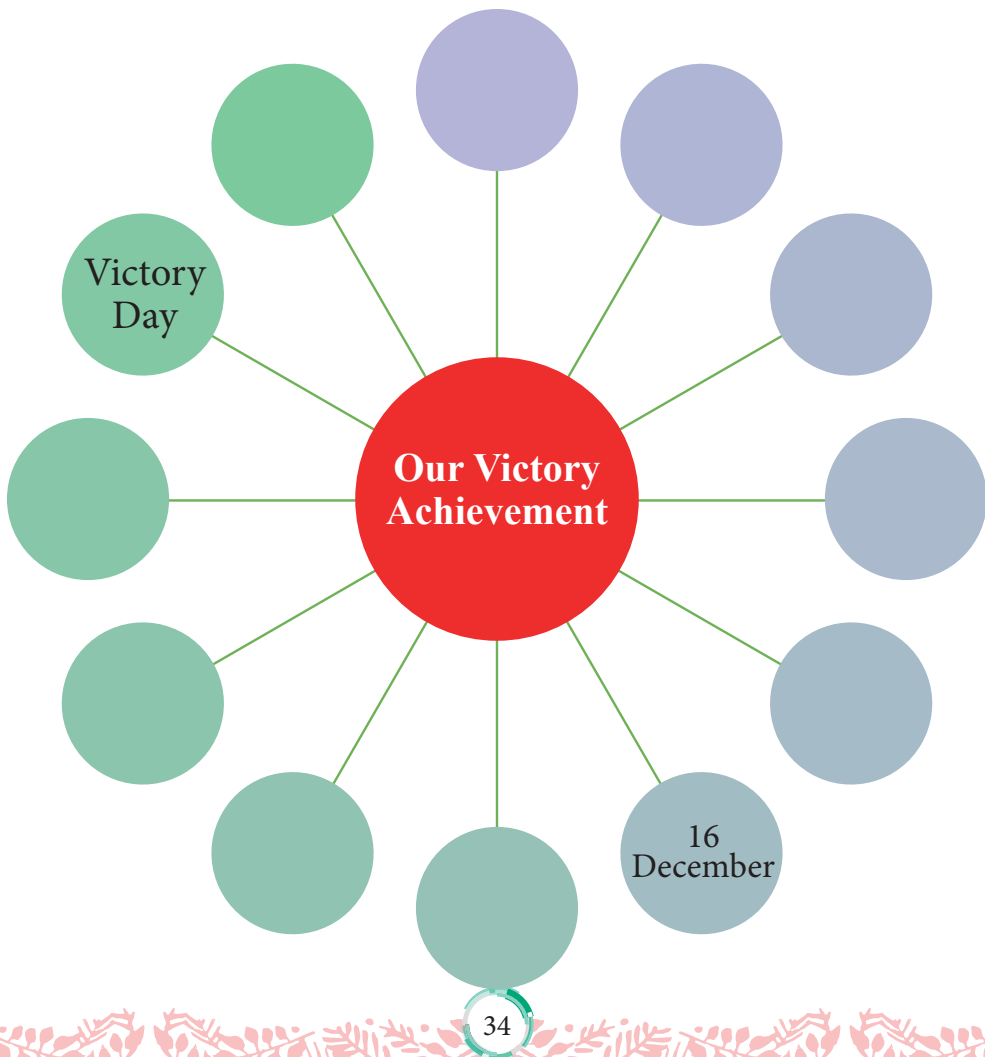

Three million people were martyred at the hands of Pakistani forces, Razakar and Al-Badr. Countless people became physically disabled. Many lost their houses. Still brave Bangalees continued fighting with great courage. India and some other friendly countries helped us. The Liberation War continued for around nine months. The Pakistani forces were forced to accept defeat. They surrendered on 16 December in 1971. We gained victory. We also gained an independent country, a map, a national flag, a national anthem and our rights through this victory. The 16th of December is our Victory Day.

We celebrate the Victory Day every year with due respect. We lay flowers at the National Memorial to respect our martyred heroes. Drawing, cultural programmes, discussion, etc. are arranged at education institutions. We learn to love our country by observing the day.

Our Culture

1 Our Language, Food and Dress

Which languages are mentioned?

Let us write the names of the food

Name of the male dress: .....

Name of the female dress: .....

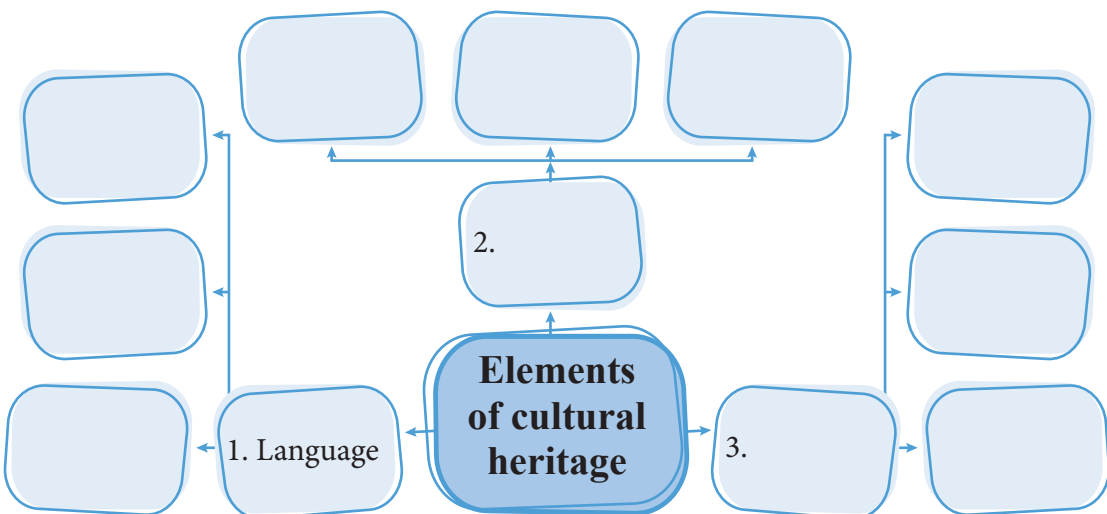

We have learned from the pictures above that we have our own language. We eat food to survive and wear dress as social beings. Culture is formed with languages, food and dress used by people. There are more other elements of culture such as dance, music, festivals and religious rituals. We will learn about these in the next chapter.

Our mother language is Bangla. We read, write and express our thoughts in this language. The people of Bangladesh speak in Bangla, but this language has different dialects. Besides Bangla, the ethnic minorities living in this country have their own languages. Bangla holds the 5th position among the native speakers of the world. People of Bangladesh sacrificed their lives for their mother tongue. Language is one of the most important elements of our cultural heritage.

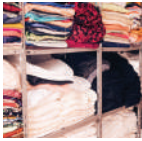

Another notable element of Bangladeshi culture is food. We eat rice, fish, meat, mashed items, vegetables, lentil, etc. as our everyday food. Besides, in different festivals and programmemes, polao, korma, biriani, roast and different items of meat and fish are served. Other than these, there are different sweet dishes such as firni, semai (vermicelli), yogurt, and a variety of cakes. The renowned cakes in our country include chitoi, vapa pitha, dudh chitoi, puli pitha, patisapta, pakan pitha, pantoa, malpoa, kulshi, kata pitha, kola pitha, narkeler bhaja puli, teler pitha, semai pitha, etc. The ethnic minorities in Bangladesh eat some traditional food such as Nappi, Lasou, Thangro, Shingjo, etc.

The people of Bangladesh wear different kinds of dresses. The main dresses for men include lungi, genji, fatua, pajama, panjabi, and dhuti. Besides, notable dresses include shirts, pants, suits, sweaters, jackets, etc. The traditional dress for women is saree. Other than these, many women wear salowar, kamij, frock, skirt, burka, hijab, etc. Boys among the children usually wear genji, shorts, shirts, pajama, panjabi, jacket, etc. whereas girls wear frock, salowar, kamij, skirts, cardigans, etc. The ethnic minorities of Bangladesh also wear traditional dresses. Their dresses include pinon, hadi, thami, aangi, dokbanda, doksaree, etc. The diversity in language, food, and dress of all the people of Bangladesh has enriched the country's cultural heritage.

Music

Music is one of the most important cultural elements. There are various kinds of music in Bangladesh. For example, baul, jari, sari, vatiali, palligeeti, vaoiya, Nazrul Geeti, Rabibdra Sangeet, modern songs, etc. Fakir Lalon Shah's Lalon Geeti and songs of Hasan Raja are also very popular. Local songs in different dialects touch our hearts. Besides, songs of the ethnic minorities in their languages are also very popular.

Dance

Dance is a special element of our culture. There are different kinds of dances in our country. For example, lokonritto, shastrio nritto, native dances of the ethnic minorities, etc.

Lokonritto is the life-oriented dance of the people living in a particular area. For example, dhamail, dance with jari gan, dance with sari gan and snake charmers' dance.

Dance that is performed based on Nazrul Geeti, Rabindranath Sangeet, modern and patriotic songs is srijonshil nritto or creative dance.

The native dances of ethnic minorities like jhum nritto, thala nritto, bamboo dance and umbrella dance are excellent. Sometimes they dance together and sometimes they dance alone in traditional dress with traditional instruments. The dances of the ethnic minorities are a part of our cultural heritage. Kothhok and Monipuri dances are very rich as part of our cultural heritage.

Festivals

The main social festival in Bangladesh is Bangla New Year. This festival is celebrated on the first day of the Bangla New Year or on Pahela Baishakh. Besides, there is nabanno festival. This festival is celebrated on the occasion of harvesting new crops. Pitha, payes, etc. are prepared in every house. The main religious festivals of the Muslims are the Eid-ul-Fitr and the Eid-ul-Azha. The religious festivals of the Hindus are Durga Puja, Saraswati Puja, etc. The Buddhists celebrate the Buddha Purnima on the occasion of the birth anniversary of Goutam Buddha. The Christians celebrate the 25th of December as the Christmas Day on the occasion of the birthday of Jesus Christ. Harmony increases among us through celebration of these religious festivals.

Continents and Oceans

1 Continents

We live on earth. The earth is a planet of the solar system. It looks round but it is a little bit flat in north and south. There are land and water on the surface of the earth. The land consists of plane land, plateaus, hills, mountains, and deserts. One-fourth of the earth's surface is land.

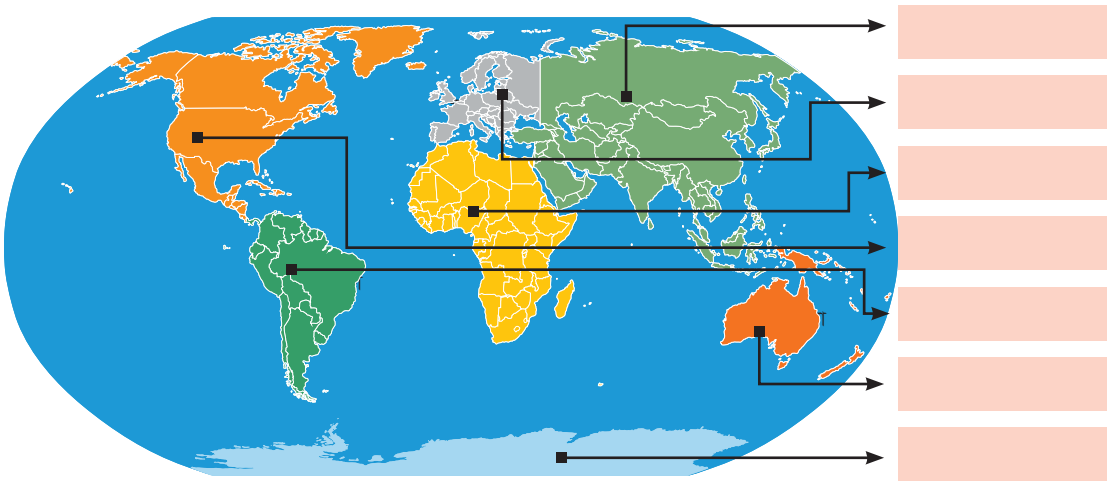

Continents on the Map of the World

The land area of earth has been divided into seven continents. Every continent has many countries. The largest continent on earth is Asia. The smallest continent is Australia/Oceania.

Three-fourths of the earth's surface is water. This water consists of rivers, seas and oceans. There is huge saline water around the land. This saline water is the oceans. There are five oceans on earth. The Pacific Ocean is the largest and the Arctic Ocean is the smallest ocean.

Child's Role at Family and School

1 Responsibilities to My Family Members

Picture-1

Picture-2

a) Let us observe the pictures above and answer the questions below :

- 1) Who is doing what in picture-1?
- 2) Why doing?
- 3) Who is doing what in picture-2?
- 4) Why doing?

A family is usually formed by parents and siblings. Joint families have uncles, aunts and cousins too. Many families have grandparents or other senior members. Some of our siblings are senior to us, some are junior. Senior members of the family raise us, love us and take care of us. Junior family members also love and respect us.

We should love and respect every junior and senior member of the family. We have duties and responsibilities towards them too. We will obey the orders and instructions of the senior members of the family. We will respect and honour them. We will help them in family work. On the other hand, we will love and adore the juniors in the family. We will help them eat. We will take them to play. We will look after them so that they do not face any problem. Besides, if any member of the family falls sick, we will treat them.

b) Let us write down our duties and responsibilities towards the juniors in the family in the table below after reading the lesson part above :

- 1) What is the old woman doing in the picture?
- 2) What is the girl doing?
- 3) What is the boy doing?
- 4) What may be the relation between the old woman and the boy and the girl?

Grandparents or elderly persons live in many families. These aged people are very respectable and honourable to us. They adore us very much and always pray for our well-being.

They looked after us in great care. They adored us. So, we are grateful to them. Some of them are very weak because of age. They cannot move freely. Some of them cannot even do their own work without help. Sometimes they feel lonely. So, we must love them, accompany them, talk to them and take them out. We must help them when necessary and obey their advices.

b) Let us write down the needs of the elderly members of the family after reading the lesson part above :

3 Family Security

a) Let us describe what accident occurred after observing the picture above. Let us write in the table below what security risk may arise in the family :

Serial	Security Risks

Family is the safest shelter for us. But family members may face security risks for different reasons. Anyone of the family may suddenly fall sick. Anyone may fall victim to an accident. The house may catch fire. Theft or robbery may occur in the house.

There are different service organisations to give us protection from security risks. For example, hospital, fire service, police force, etc. If anyone in the family falls sick, he or she is taken to the hospital for treatment. If the house catches fire, fire service helps douse it. Moreover, police give us security by arresting thieves and robbers and maintaining law and order.

Our neighbours first come forward to help us in any danger because they live close to us. They should be informed in any danger. Besides, in case of any accidents, we should inform the concerned agency. So, we should know which organisations provide which services and how to get that. There are some helpline or hotline numbers for quick service from those organisations. In order to get help from fire service, ambulance and police, national help desk 999 has been launched. We can dial this number any time of the day free of cost for help. While calling them, we need to give them house address and necessary information. This help desk connects us with the certain service delivery organisation to get their help. In addition to calling them, we can contact them by going to their office directly.

b) Let us write down names of different agencies and what service we can get them for our family's security by observing the pictures above :

4 Me in Maintaining Cleanliness

a) Let us answer the questions given below by observing the pictures above :

- 1) What are these pictures about?
- 2) Who are being seen here?
- 3) What are they doing?
- 4) What might be the result of their activities?

Everyone likes fresh and clean environment. There are many benefits of keeping the environment clean. Clean environment looks beautiful. It does not have mosquitoes or flies. It has no dust, germs and bad smell. That is why clean environment is healthy.

Our nearby environment is formed by the houses around our home, neighbours, roads, playground, etc. We live in this nearby environment. On the other hand, we spend a big part of the day at school. That is why cleanliness of nearby environment and school is very important in our life.

Everyone has to play an active role to maintain cleanliness. We will throw paper bag, paper, chips and chocolate packet, etc. in the dustbin instead of littering those on the roads and playground of our nearby environment. We can keep the environment clean by clearing the weeds with the help of same-aged friends and seniors. If there is no dustbin, we can set up one with the help of seniors. In this way, we will pick up paper and other similar things from school corridor, field, ground, etc. and dump those in dustbin. We will keep the school washroom clean by pouring lot of water after using it.

If we spit or drop cough here and there in our nearby environment and school, it becomes dirty. It is equally important to make the school clean and keep it clean as well. We need to practice the habit of making the school clean and keeping it clean as well. Others should be made aware of it. These activities are more effective if we do it together than alone.

b) Let us write in the table below what I can do to keep my nearby environment clean :

They vaccinated Ehan and Nusafa during their childhood at nearby health centre. Their parents took them to admit to a school at the age of five. The school teacher admitted them. They can learn and play at school. Their parents love them very much. They study, play and sleep at home in time. Their parents give them nutritious food for their sound health. One day, Ehan suddenly became sick. His parents took him to the hospital. The hospital gave him treatment and medicine. He recovered. One day while returning home from school, a stranger offered them chocolates. They refused. But the man tempted them more. A nearby policeman observed the matter. He quickly went to the spot. The man ran away.

3 Let Us Walk Safely

a) Let us observe the picture and find out the answers to the questions below :

What are the people doing?

How are they crossing the road?

What is the problem of crossing the road this way?

Every year many road accidents occur in Bangladesh. Many people become injured and many even many die in these accidents. Many children are among them too. Many of the injured children suffer a miserable life after being disabled in accidents. Lack of knowledge about traffic rules and carelessness of the children and their guardians are the main reasons of road accidents.

Different types of vehicles ply on the road. People also walk along with the vehicles on the roads in the cities. That is why sometimes accidents occur there, though the roads are important. So, the reasons why we should follow the traffic rules are :

- ◇ to avoid collision between two vehicles
- ◇ to reduce traffic jam
- ◇ to save pedestrians from accidents

Whenever children go out on the roads, they should hold the hands of their parents or guardians. They should never go out alone on the roads. Roads should be crossed where there is zebra crossing and foot over bridge. Where there is no zebra crossing, roads should be crossed carefully looking left and right.

I am standing here. I want to go to the green marked place...

b) Let me mark by a pen the two ways through which I can go to the green-marked place following rules in the above picture of the road.

Moral and Human Qualities

1 Just and Unjust Deeds

a) Let us observe the above pictures and read the dialogues.
Let us talk about which deed is just and why :

b) Let us read about the dialogues of Raju, Ridisha, Arisha, Saju, Ehan and Nazifa and identify right and wrong deeds :

c) Let us change the dialogues of wrong deeds into right deeds :

- ◇ .....
- ◇ .....

Deeds that are good and useful for people are the right deeds.

To tell the truth, walk on the right path, select honest and ideal friends, talk in favor of the truthful person, not to support liars and wrongdoers are just deeds.”

To tell lies, support wrong, walk on the wrong path, not to protest injustice, disobey the elders, unnecessarily irritate others, etc. are wrong deeds.

The deeds not good and useful for people are wrong deeds.

d) Let us write 3 right and 3 wrong deeds that I have seen in the table below :

Right deeds	Wrong deeds

2 Importance of Good Deeds

I have found some money in the school ground today and given it to the Headteacher.

Saju

My friend did not bring tiffin in school today. I have shared my tiffin with him/her.

Naira

Raju

a) Let us read the dialogues above and answer the questions below :

1. Which friends have done good deeds?
2. Why are these deeds good?
3. Which friends have done bad deeds?
4. Why are these deeds bad?

Importance of just deeds which are good deeds is great. Everybody in the society admires the person who does the right deeds and walks on the right path. Just deeds teach us to hate injustice. The society benefits from good deeds. Peace is established in the society. So, we should do the right deeds and walk on the right path.

We can practise good deeds in our daily life with little effort. For example, telling the truth, walking on the right path, selecting honest and ideal friends, supporting the truthful, and not supporting the liars and wrongdoers, etc. If we all practise good deeds, injustice will go away and truth and justice will be established in the society. People will live in the society peacefully.

What kind of products are these?

Our Country

We use various products in our day-to-day life. Some products are from agriculture and some are from industry. Products from agriculture are agricultural products. Products from industries are industrial products. The main agricultural products of Bangladesh are rice, jute, sugarcane and tea. Rice is grown everywhere in the country. Jute and tea are cash crops. We earn foreign currency by exporting them to foreign countries. Moreover, wheat, maize, mustard, pulses, tobacco, cotton, vegetables, spices, fruits are grown in our country. Fish, poultry and cattle are our important agricultural products.

4 Population and Resources of Bangladesh

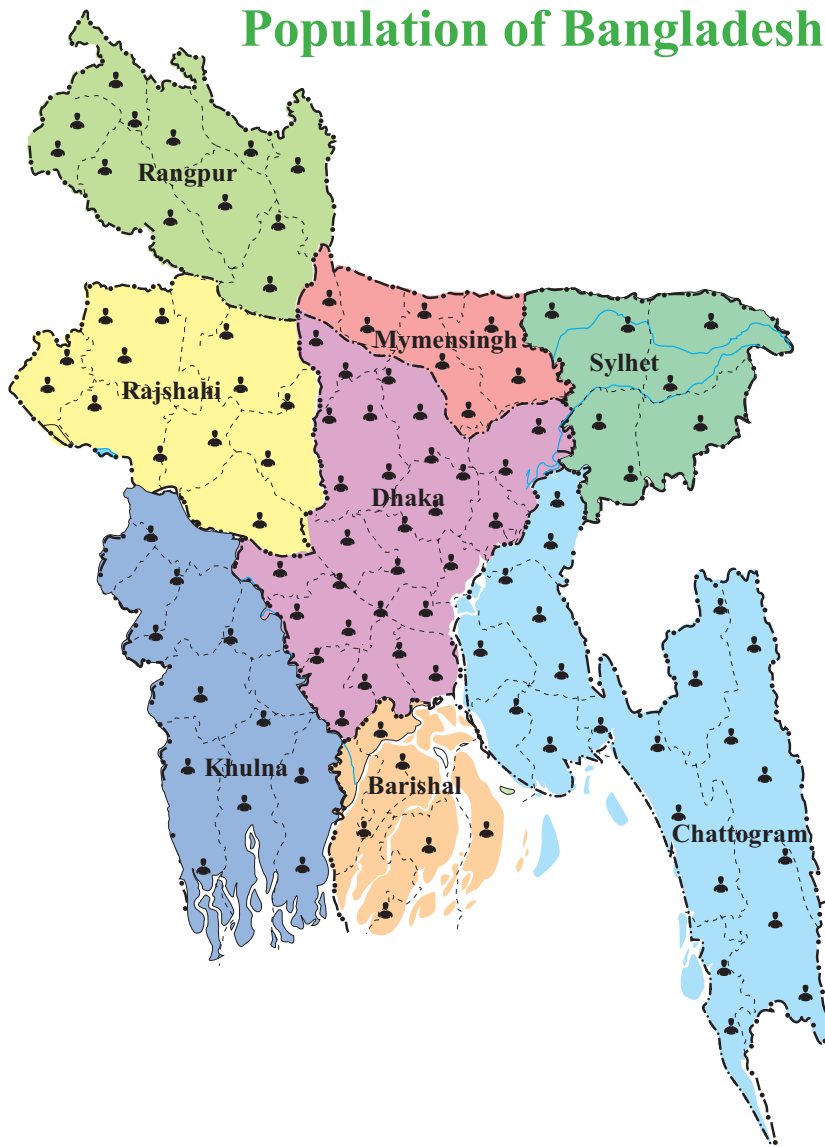

Our neighbours live around us like our parents and siblings live in our family. Many people live in Bangladesh like that. The total number of people living in a country is called the population of that country. The current population of Bangladesh is about 16 crore 51 lakh. The number of men and women in our country is almost equal. The number of women is a little higher than that of men. The number of women is about 8 crore 34 lakh and men is about 8 crore 17 lakh. The population of all the countries in the world is not equal. Some countries have high population and some have less population. According to population, Bangladesh ranks 8th in all the countries.

Our houses, schools, madrasa, etc. are built on the land of this country. Thus we use the resources of land, water, natural gas, fuel, etc. in our own use. More population requires more resources. But people themselves can be resources besides consuming these resources. Because they have the merit and power to work. The invention of a scientist is a great resource. For example, television, computers, mobile phones, etc. An expert worker can work much better than an inexperienced worker. Educated people can work in different professions at home and abroad. Educated, expert people are the human resources. High population of Bangladesh has the opportunity to be huge human resources. If human resources are developed, the country is developed too.

a) Let us find the information about population and write it down in the boxes below :

Population in all areas of Bangladesh is not the same. Some areas have more population and some have less. Let us see the population of different divisions of Bangladesh in the map given below :

b) Let us observe the map of Bangladesh and write the names of the divisions as per population (more to less) in the blank cells below :

c) Let us read the story below and answer the questions :

Mehedi Hasan was a rich farmer. His family included his wife, two sons and a daughter. His earning from the harvest from his land was pretty sufficient to run the family. His children were high school dropouts. They did not learn skill to earn. Gradually his children had their own families. Their land was divided. As a result, their land became less. People get money from different sources. They get salary from jobs. They get money as price of selling something. All these are their income. After spending from income the remaining money is their savings. That is what we save after expenditures.

We save money to meet different needs in future. If money is needed suddenly, we can meet it from savings. We need money to fulfil various desires. Money is needed to buy our favourite books, toys. Money is also needed to buy gifts. If needed, we can support our parents by giving them money. We can use our savings in these types of work. Savings are our friend in need. 1. What is seen in picture-1?

Many kinds of disasters occur in Bangladesh. Three important disasters are fire, flood and earthquake. Besides natural causes, disasters occur for human made causes. Emergency situation is created because of disasters. Fire is a terrible disaster. Fire often occurs in Bangladesh. Accidents occur as fire catches houses, city slums, shops, factories, garment factories and vehicles. As a result, huge property is damaged. Many people lose their last resort and become penniless. People are also killed by fire. Besides, it damages the environment a lot.

2 Flood

Momin lives in a village in Bangladesh. He is a student of grade three. It was announced on TV that it might rain heavily for a few days. From the next day, it began to rain continuously for a week. Half-ripe paddy, vegetable field, roads everything went under water. When the situation worsened, Momin's father hurriedly took shelter with his family in the three-storey government primary school in their village. He left two cows on the high dam of the southern part of the village. Before they could bring the rest of the cattle and other necessities, the northern dam of the village broke and washed those away. Many other families of the village also took shelter in that school building. Momin and his family were stuck there. They faced food and drinking water shortage. Food for the cattle also ran out. Several people suffered from diarrhoea after drinking contaminated flood water. There were children among the affected. Besides, there was no necessary medicine.

a) Let us answer the following questions after reading the case study above :

- (1) Why did Momin and his family go to the shelter centre?
- (2) Why could not they take their necessary belongings with them?
- (3) Why were some of their cows washed away in the flood?
- (4) Why was there shortage of food at the shelter centre?
- (5) Why were several people of the shelter centre affected by diarrhoea?

Severe flood hits many areas in our country every year. Flood is a natural disaster. So, it cannot be controlled every time. Flood causes human disaster and creates an emergency situation. We can take some measures to reduce the loss caused by floods. We need to take dry food, drinking water, clothes and medicine to the shelter centre as per severity of the flood. The cattle along with their food should be kept on a dam or a higher place. Reading books, notebooks and important materials should be kept inside a plastic bag or in a safe place.

d) Let us observe the pictures above and answer the questions below :

- (1) What can you see in picture-1?
- (2) What are these pictures about?
- (3) What can you see in picture-2?
- (4) Where are the students taking shelter? Why?

Earthquake is a natural disaster. Bangladesh is at risk of earthquake. It may start any time without any forecast. It usually lasts for 30-40 seconds. Many houses, buildings, roads, electric, gas, telephone lines, etc. are damaged during a strong earthquake. Houses collapse. Many people are injured and killed under the collapsed houses. So, we have to take special precautions to be safe from earthquake.

We should not run to and fro in panic and not try to go out of the room during earthquake. We should not use staircase and lift in this time. We should not jump from the balcony or roof. We have to stay calm. We have to take shelter under strong table, bed or similar furniture to save ourselves. We should cover our head with a pillow if we are on the bed. We should stand under a beam if we are inside a building.

After the first earthquake, there might be another quake. So, we have to take shelter in the open after the first quake. If earthquake takes place when we are outside, we have to take shelter in an open place away from highrise building, wall, tree, electric pole, electric line, etc. We should not move much if we are trapped under a collapsed wall. We should try to draw the attention of the rescuers when the earthquake is over.

b) Let us make a list of losses due to an earthquake :

1. ....
2. ....
